Popular in butcheries as a delicious and effective catalyst to the dry-ageing process, these walls are as purposeful as they are pretty. With a huge curb appeal and a myriad of functions, the list of salt block uses is never ending. In recent years we have supplied art installations, salt caves, specialist breathing rooms for the treatment of respiratory complaints, holistic therapy rooms, and yoga studios.

Peacock Salt have also supplied their Himalayan salt blocks to Spas and wellness centres, shop fronts, and as a feature in trendy shops and restaurants across the UK. The blocks are carved from an ancient inland evaporated salt sea and the salt itself boasts over 80 unique trace elements and minerals with a range of health benefits. At Peacock Salt we source only the best quality salt blocks which are thick and compact, offering longevity and practicality. We can also offer replacement blocks when the time comes to replenish or renew your wall.
